Ben and Bridgette represent the pain that many couples experience because of what they ve learned and have not learned about marriage. You have a history. Your husband has a history. Some wins and some losses. Great decisions and praise. Poor decisions with severe consequences. It s up and then it s down. What I m suggesting to you is that all of this disappointment, displeasure, discontent, disapproval, disregard, and dysfunction is unnecessary. It is simply the byproduct of not recognizing what a relationship and is not. I define relationship, particularly marriage, as a Quality Exchange. There s a reason to come together and it s far more sophisticated than sex and companionship. You got married with an expectation for something greater than you produce alone. They decide to make their union about a particular goal. Singular, defined, and advancing - you must do the same. The Bible asks an important question about relationship and now I extend this question to you: Do two people walk hand in hand if they aren t going to the same place? The answer is obvious but getting to a place of walking hand in hand with your husband requires a new mind, a fresh desire, and the appropriate learning path. The remaining three sections of this book provide that path. Its focus is YOU. I will introduce to the finest YOU that you ve ever met. This woman is irresistible, compelling, and beautiful. Let s discover YOU...
