Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Prof. John Evans Fifi Atta Mills was the sixth President of the Republic of Ghana. Ex President Atta Mills also served as vice-president to President Jerry Rawlings between 1997 and January 2001. He was born on July 21, 1944. After completing Achimota Secondary School, he continued his education at the University of Ghana, Legon, where he received a bachelor s degree and professional certificate in Law in 1967. He then left Ghana to pursue his graduate and postgraduate education in Law abroad. While studying for his PhD in Law at the prestigious School of Oriental and African Studies (SOAS) in London, John Atta Mills earned a Fulbright scholarship to attend the prestigious Stanford Law School in the United States of America in 1971. He was awarded his PhD at the age of 27. In 2011 Prof. Mills was elected by the NDC to lead them in the 2012 presidential elections but it did not come without any challenge. For the first time a sitting president in Ghana who had not exceeded his eight-year term would be challenged by...
