Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Report on the Second International Moral Education Congress: At the Hague, August, 1912; And as Related Thereto Moral Instruction in the Canadian Public Schools The British North America Act, under which the four provinces became federated as Canada and the other five were subsequently admitted, and the Special Acts relating to the admission of those provinces that in and for each province the respective legislatures of the provinces may exclusively make laws in relation to education, subject to the restrictions relating to the rights of minorities and denominations as set forth in the respective sections dealing with education. Still, it must not be understood that the Dominion is divested of all jurisdiction and interest in relation to education. Under the general powers reserved to and conferred upon the Dominion Parliament by section 91 of the British North America Act, the Dominion Parliament has the right to make laws in relation to education in so far as such education is reasonably necessary for efficiency in and is ancillary to those subjects allotted to the Dominion by section 91 of the British North America Act. Such laws, however, are not to be of a purely local nature, but general and in the interests of the Dominion as a whole and for its peace, order and good government. For instance, some of the subjects with which the Federal Parliament may alone deal are: Militia, military and naval service and defence; Navigation and shipping; Immigration; Indians; management of penitentiaries; the Criminal Law, etc. In pursuance of the general authority just mentioned, the Dominion Parliament already provides for military education and training for the education of Indian children; and, as...
